PRINTERS PROTEST STATE JOB

Union Opposes Awarding of Work to Hugh Stephens Company.

An echo of the recent printers' strike in Columbia came yesterday from Jefferson City, where the State Board of Printing Commissioners is receiving bids for the state printing contract.

The Hugh Stephens Printing Company of Jefferson City, present holder of the contract, submitted the only bid. Yesterday the board received a letter from C. L. Hertenstein of St. Louis, district representative of the International Typographical Union, who was in charge of the recent strike in Columbia, filing a protest against this bid. Mr. Hertenstein charges that the Hugh Stephens Printing Company is a branch of the E. W. Stephens Publishing Company of Columbia, and that both companies are "unfair" to union labor.

In contradiction to this, Hugh Stephens of the Jefferson City company and E. S. Stephens of Columbia deny that there is any connection between the two companies.

Resolutions repudiating the action of Mr. Hertenstein and urging that the contract be awarded the Hugh Stephens Printing Company, were passed by the Typographical Bookbinders and Pressmen's Unions of Jefferson City. The state printing contract amounts to about $120,000 annually.
